Editing a reference

You may find the reference in your bibliography is incorrect or doesn’t look the way it should. This could be because you are using the wrong style, or incorrect or missing information in the reference.

1. If the wrong style you can change this easily by choosing another style from the drop down style menu in word:

2. If missing/incorrect information you will need to change this in your EndNote Online library:
   a. Locate the reference in your library and add the missing/incorrect data
   b. Once you are happy with the reference information, go back to your word document
   c. From word click on Edit citations in your EndNote toolbar, Edit Library Reference and choose Update from my library
